RULES DOG WORLD AND RULES IT WELL

American Kennel Club Is Sort of Benevolent Despot in the United States.

GOVERNS ALL SHOWS

What are the duties of the American Kennel Club in regard to dog shows; is it necessary for a person to be a memper of a d'ub in order to exhibit at how: and do dog show judges make their awards in a fair and impartial manner, are questions that have been sked in communications received at this office in the past fortnight.

It is needless to say that these quesone were asked by persons who know little if anything about the manner in following article is written to enlighten the beginner and novice who read and hear much about the all powerful American Rennel Club, but know nothing about its object or the way dog shows are conducted.

In the first place, the doc read.

In the first place the dog world can be divided into two classes, the first being those who own dogs simply as pets, and second, those who own dogs not only as pets and companions, but also for exhibition. Dog shows in the United States are held under the auspices of the American Kennel Chib, a body which has jurisdiction all over the coun-try in such a manner that it holds sway over every dog show which is worth the
